THE FASHIONABLE EVENT.

RICE AND DESLY'S PUALL OF PUARS. the red-letter event of the ampsement season and the most brilliant occasion of years will occur at the opera house to-morrownight, when Rice & Divey's word-renowned production, "The Pearl of Pokin," will be witnessed in all its gorgeous splendor, and with all the original company, which includes 65 artists, besides the famous comedian, Louis Harrison.

It is safe to say that no organization of the size and importance of this one has ever been seen in Decatur, and to prevent any misconception on the part of the public, Manager Hames has issued a cu adar guar anteeing the production in its entirety with all the original company and all the gorgeous costumes and scenery which have created a veritable fature in all the most important theaters of the principal cities. Decatur is one of the few places outside the largest cities of America that the company has ever been bloked, and their appearance here is more on account of recident than design, so no matter how crowded the opera. Catechetical services at 2130 p. m. house may be, the expense of the organization precludes the possibility of profit. The Chay-Mass at S and 10 a. m. Vespers at 3 New York Herald, speaking of the 250 p. m. nights' run of the opera in that city, with will be seen here, sava:

"Comic opera, with even a more pronounced Chinese flavor than that which marked Giffert and Sullivan's famous proluction. 'The Mikado,' continues a most astonishing success at the Bijou Opera House, in the shape of the musical absardity called 'The Pearl of Pekin.' If the touchstone of merit is success,' then the burlesque opera has a very extraordinary the form of a new comic song, entitled, 'Bing Binger, the Baritone Singer,' makes an astonishing hit. His grotesque humor s the soul of true comedy, and so quaintly is the soul of true comedy, and so quanty funny that laughter ripples over the audi-ence, every time he appears, whether to speak, to sing or to stand still. The ex-travagantly rich costuming of the piece is very far ahead of anything ever yet attempted upon a metropolitan stage, the cost of the entire production being given out as reaching $20,000.

SOSEPH MURPHY.

Joseph Murphy will appear Tuesday night in "The Donagh." The Philadelphia

Times-Star says of it: Times-Star says of w:

Joseph Murphy has been seen in many pieces denominated on the bills as spectacular Irish dramas. He is an actor of buoyant spirits, a rich brogue and good voice, which has uses treely in all his plays. "The spirits, a rich brogue and good voice, which he uses treely in all his plays. "The Donagh" is different from Mr. Murphy's other pieces, but there is enough about it that is familiar to at least remind play-goers of the others. It sets forth the troubles of an honest Irish family, of which Mr. Murphy, as "Lanty Killaly," is the representative. There is the villainous landlord's agent with his geographics who finally or tive. There is the villainous landlord's agent with his accomplice, who finally exposes him, the handsome Irish lassie in love with the hard, and the stern lather who is compromised by the agent, the needs and lovely helices in love with the hero, "Lamy," and all the test. The play contains dramatic situations, songs, dances, and some real Irish jigs, and the immensely large and enew was apparently much pleased with all of it. Mr. Murphy is surrounded by a competent comman.

J. C. Stewart's three-act comedy, "The Two Johns," will be given at the Grand Op-era House Wednesday evening. The two Johns are both bald and both very fleshy. Their similarity and the Indicrons situa-tions that grow out of mistaken identity, is the basis of an evening's hearty laughter. The comedy abounds in topical sougs, comicincidentals and good music. The Two Johns' are supported by some clever actors. BRILLIANT MINSTRELSY,

The Wilson minstrel company, of which genial George Wilson is the bright particular star, will be greeted by a large audience at the opera-house Friday evening. Numerous new features bave been introduced. and there is not a stick in the organization. The costuming is a egant, the singing exceptionally good and the performance is refined and entertaining.

The freacherous Lights

It happened the other night, the time was about 11:40 p. m., and the place a Cill-zens street car enroute to the depot. Two ladies accompanied by male escorts got on the car at Water street, and took their seats in Preaching at 230 p. m. one corner. Eyes looked love to eyes, and nothing happened, but presently they went out again. It was then came the "tug" of war," as it were, when uses met nose and lips were glued to lips. The lights sud-denly resumed business with unusual brill-lancy, and the performance became free for all. They didn't faint, but the red flush of dawning day was never redder than the fair cheeks of the ladies, and they all left the car before it reached the depot,

The Desecration of Rome In order not to wander too fir from only of these annals of destruction. I will mention what happened in the vil lev of the Forum between 1540 and 1649 In less than ten years' time the men em ployed by the contrictors of St Peters to search for building in sterials crossed the valley of the Forum from and to and, mantling, splitting into fragments, burning into lime, the femples, the arches, the bisilices most f imous in Roman his tory, in the history of the Old World together with the inscriptions which in dicated their former use on design, and the statues and bass reliefs which orna mented them In 1510 the podrum, steps and pediment of the temple of An toninus and flaustini were removed to St Peters or otherwise made use of Between 15H and 1545 the same fate be fell the triumphal arch raised in honor of Fabius Maximus, the conqueror of Savoy, the triumphal arch laised in honor of Augustus after the battle of Actium, the temple of Romulus, son of Maxentius, and a portion of the Cloaca Maxima. In 1546 the temple of Julius Cæsar was leveled to the ground, to gether with the Fasti Consulares and Friumphales engraved on its marble basement, in 1547 the temple of Castor respondents to let up on the Stanley matters and Pollux was dismantled; in 1549 the temple of Vesta, the temple of Augustus

BILLANFAST

By a therough Incwledge of the laws which twen the operations of dictation and nutrition and by a careful application of the fine property of well selected force, with Lyps has provided our breakfast fables with a detentify flavoured everage which may save us many heavy doctors bills. It is by the indictory use of such articles of deet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tenency to discase. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us, rendy to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a statisfiat by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and properly nourlished frame. It is a weak point. It is a remarkable fact that nothing surpasses in modern engineering the pyramids of Ghizch, built mere than 2,000 years ago. It is universally acknowledged by the highest professional authorities in archiecture and building that the masonry of the pyramids could not be surpassed in these days, and, moreover, is perfect for the purpose for which they were intended-above all, to for about ten centuries to creet huge, meaningless, pointed piles of masonry. Ingenious Methods of Making the Old Gobbler Look Young-One Woman Who Has Made a Fortune Out of Auts' Eggs Big Stories About Parisian Cuts.

There are many queer trades in Pavis. One of the oddest is that of "painter of turkeys' legs." This artist is known only to the poultry dealing fraternity and is a highly useful member of the community. By his artistic skill he enables the trader to palm off a bird of patriarchal age with a certain vague remance as to the date of its decease, upon a misgaided housewife, or even upon an experienced buyer, who has learned to judge a turkey after the manner of cookery book writers. Turkeys when freshly killed have shiny black legs and claws, but as the day of their death becomes more or less a matter of ancient history their lower extremities assume a slaty, dingy gray color. Old turkeys, too, have long claws and horny looking beaks, which the ingenious artist pares and varnishes. Hindoo Superstitions.

The Hindoos are early risers. In the three or four times a week, paints the october—they sleep either upon the housetop or in the court yard, or in the veranda, if rain should be threatening, and are usually up at 5 o'clock or earlier in the morning. In the cold weather, when they sleep within dows, they rise lates they should be should be a trade secret to the present owner for £40), carefully pares the nails and beak, and there you have a turkey that will fetch half as much again. THE CAT INDUSTRY.
"Cat killers" are not numerous, but the few who monopolize the trade make a great deal of money out of it. They walk through Parisabout midnight with a sack and a couple of terriers, and when they catch sight of a stray puss off go the dogs, who solden return to their master without their prize. Their skins isfied that a bunny has been sacrificed, so the workmen who delight in this dainty require to see a tabbit's head as a proof of the L ma fides of the dish. This would puzzle an ordinary individual, but the "cat killer" is a genius and a French-

"ANT FARMERS."

"Ant farmers," though only numbering half a dozen or so in Paris, are by no means to be overlooked in our study of odd trades. One, for instance, rejoices in the name of Mile. Blanche. She is not prepossessing in appearance. Her skin looks like dried pippins, and is tanned like crocodile hide. She has more amount operation than the more transportation of immense stones— that of erecting obelisks weighing 400 tons—was performed with precision by the Egyptians 300 years before the time of Chrisa. Of the ancient method of perfectly hideous. She sleeps in the raising immense stones— particles to such an extent that she is perfectly hideous. She sleeps in the raising immense stones— particles to such an extent that she is perfectly hideous. She sleeps in the epidermis has become so insensible to the bites of these insects that she slummeal from her thick skin.

She was some time age compelled to remove her quarters to a spot just outside Paris, because the neighbors not coreasonably objected to the stray members of her farm skirmishing on their wa account in the paintries of the adjoining houses. Mile, Blancke supplies broyders and keepers of phoasants, the zoological gardens, equariums and large bird dealers with ants' eggs and receives never less than ten large flour sacks of ants a day from Germany and elsewhere By keeping them in a great heat and teeding them well they are induced to by a vast quantity of eggs. It is interesting to record that Mile. Blanche is by this time possessed of a handsome Forseilesh is still caten by the Paris-ians, much as such a statement may horrify my readers across the sea. At least a thousand horses are killed here every year to supply this meat to the capital. About thirty sheps sell nothing but horse, quite and donkey's flesh. Many of them have over their doors boucherie hippique, and do a rushing trade among the working population, who have no foolish scruples about eating portions of what is certainly the cleanest of animals. It is no serret that the major part of the "beefsteaks" at the restaurants as well as nine-tenths of the sausages come from defunct gee-gees. The thin flattened sausages from the north of France are made from horse flesh, and the Lyons sausages from the meat of the docile donkey.—Cor. Philadelphia Times.
